Survival Challenge-Live Independently

- Disasters can strike anywhere, anytime, to anyone due to geologic conditions and unforeseen tragic events, even you right now!
- Globally, 30 million plus people flee their homes each year due to manmade or natural disasters, not knowing if they can return home.
- Disasters cause tens of thousands of deaths, hundreds of thousands of injuries, billions of dollars in loses annually and growing.
- Current relief efforts are hindered by unavailable or limited survival supplies which are often distributed in scattered piece-meal approach, if at all. Rescue time is very limited.
- Current survival essential products are ineffective, incomplete, costly, environmentally bad, and people get false sense of readiness for a disaster that can get them hurt or even killed.

Most People Get Caught Unprepared!
